

International Practice

Representing Companies in Complex International Transactions

The attorneys in VLP's International Practice Group represent companies of all sizes in a wide variety of corporate and technology transfer transactions and intellectual property protection and risk analysis. Our team of experienced legal professionals advise businesses operating across a broad range of industry sectors, including:

- ➔ Life sciences.
- ➔ Medical devices.
- ➔ Software.
- ➔ Hardware.
- ➔ Telecommunications.
- ➔ Digital media.
- ➔ Semiconductors.

Our International Practice Group expands our firm's service offerings to both U.S. based clients needing assistance in conducting operations internationally and overseas clients who require assistance in doing business in the U.S. Additionally, our International Practice works with clients to close cross border deals between international and U.S. companies.

Diverse International Client Base

VLP's International Practice Group has developed a diverse client base. Our attorneys represent clients in a variety of roles, including:

- ➔ Buyers.
- ➔ Sellers.
- ➔ Licensors.
- ➔ Licensees.
- ➔ Drug developers and manufacturers.
- ➔ Device manufacturers.
- ➔ Service providers and contract research organizations.
- ➔ Investors.

Asia Practice

VLP attorneys are uniquely positioned to counsel clients in a full range of complex international commercial matters. Several of our attorneys are fluent in Mandarin and have previously worked in the Asian offices of international law firms as well as with companies that have significant operations in Asia. Our attorneys also work closely with select law firms in China and elsewhere in Asia to provide clients with the best possible representation without the costly overhead associated with establishing Asian offices. By partnering with legal practitioners on the ground in Asia, our clients can be assured of receiving top quality legal advice, including advice from practitioners in both the U.S. and the relevant jurisdictions in Asia, without sacrificing the exceptional service and benefits they have come to expect from working with VLP.
