VLP Attorneys Michael Whitener and Raquel Aragón Co-Author Privacy Advisor Article “How Should We Regulate Facial Recognition Technology?”

VLP Partner Michael Whitener and Counsel Raquel Aragón co-authored an article for The Privacy Advisor, a publication of The International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP), titled “How Should We Regulate Facial Recognition Technology?”

In this article, Mr. Whitener and Ms. Aragón discussed what current data protection laws have to say about the use of facial-recognition technology, with a specific focus on U.S. and EU law. They also considered the future of facial-recognition technology regulation.

Click here to read the entire article.