VLP Partner David Goldenberg Featured on the Scale By Numbers Podcast Series

VLP Partner David Goldenberg was recently interviewed by James Vanreusel, CEO and Founder of Vanreusel Ventures for the podcast series called Scale By Numbers. James and David discuss, among other things, important company formation and financing issues, including tips and common mistakes made by founders. This series focuses on the 'Start-Up Stack,' to help companies meet service providers who focus on increasing the growth velocity for start-ups and offer services that support founders at every stage.
